

BACARDI EXPOSURE TO REOPEN OFFICE HELD BY SHEVLIN

Grand Jury Says It Should
Co-operate More Closely With Prohibition Director.

In a presentment handed up today the United States Grand Jury for June in Brooklyn, which held over to investigate the seizure of 498 cases of Bacardi rum shipped by the Bacardi Corporation of New York to John E. Tench, proprietor of Holliswood Hall, Hollis, L. I., in May, announced that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue had assured the jury that the Prohibition Enforcement Office closed by James S. Shevlin soon after the seizure, would be reopened. The jury was discharged with thanks by Judge Chatfield.

The presentment found that the rum had been shipped to Tench, who is out on $2,500 bail, by the Bacardi Corporation, which "attempted to take advantage of a permit" to ship the rum. David P. de Jongh, head of the corporation, is out on $1,000 bail.

pending the hearing of his case next October. He is charged with illegally transporting the liquor.

The presentment also commended Lieut. Nugent, who seized the rum, for refusing to surrender the liquor to the agents for Prohibition Enforcement Agent Shevlin, and declared there is great need for closer co-operation between Shevlin's office and the office of Prohibition Director O'Connor.

The jury praised the work of William D. Allen, former enforcement agent in Brooklyn under Shevlin, and asks that he be returned to his former post when the office is reopened.

BOY FOUND LOOT; FATHER IS HELD

Anton Diehl Accused, Following
Burglary in Home of Mother-in-Law.

Philip Diehl, thirteen, acting as detective, was responsible for the production today in Jamaica Police Court of his father, Anton Diehl, fifty, stone cutter, of No. 38 Collins Avenue, Maspeth, Queens, charged with petty larceny. Magistrate Doyle held Diehl in $100 for examination next Thursday.

The home of Philip's grandmother, Anna Schrier of No. 455 Woodward Avenue, Ridgewood, was entered the night of July 9, and a watch, a diamond pin and money were stolen. Philip, who lives with his father, offered to help solve the mystery. Last night, according to Mrs. Schrier, he told her he had found the watch and pin in a little bag.

Detectives Grabau and Nuppenau declared in court today they found the pin in Diehl's home. They stated that on the way to the station house in file, diehl he snatched the bag and tried to flee it from a trolley car window and also fought for it at the station house. Mrs. Diehl and two of her children live with Mrs. Schrier.

A VICTROLA

Makes Summer Entertaining Easy

Week-end house parties cease to be a source of worry to the hostess, when she has a Victrola and plenty of dance records. The porch or terrace forms an inviting setting for a dance, and the guests enjoy nothing more.

Selection of records or machines will prove a pleasure in the delightfully cool Music Rooms on the 7th floor. We are always glad to play any record for you, and have an abundance of all the new as well as the old favorites.

We particularly call attention to Model XI. at $150.00, here illustrated.
